Boys & Girls Clubs Jerry Colangelo branch is immediately adjacent to one of our sustainable community neighborhoods.

Healthy communities offer safe opportunities for educational and recreational programs, particularly for kids. In Phoenix, LISC provided $10 million in New Markets Tax Credits to support new Boys and Girls Club branches throughout the metropolitan area. Each facility offers more than 25,000 square feet of safe, year-round, after-school and summer activities where kids can gain educational competencies and participate in a wide array of indoor and outdoor activities that help them develop positive friendships and lead active, healthy lifestyles. The Centers are typically equipped with a gym, teen center, game and art room, computer lab, outdoor field, and a healthy food meal program. One of the branches is immediately adjacent to a LISC Sustainable Community neighborhood and integrates a LISC/NFL sports field that has also hosted an Arizona Cardinal's mini football training camp for kids.
