

Who can help?

Creative placemaking doesn't happen in a vacuum

As you consider who might help share resources needed for your initiative, consider who has a stake. Use this grid to keep track of your stakeholders and make a plan to engage them with your project.

As you consider who might help share resources needed for your initiative, consider who has a stake.

Who has a stake in the success of your initiative?	What needed resources may they have?	How should you engage them? Who has access, influence?