

LISC Chicago's Financial Opportunity Center® (FOC) network partners are community-based organizations who provide employment, financial, and income support services delivered as a seamlessly integrated package; a coaching approach in which participants set financial and life goals and work toward them with accountability from their coaches. FOCs' mutually-reinforcing program components have proven to help people stay motivated, as evidenced by improved job retention, and improve their financial stability, as evidenced by improvements in credit and credit-building behavior.

There are currently over 130 Financial Opportunity Centers® operating across the U.S. In 2023, Chicago's 9 FOCs served over 3,910 people through this integrated service delivery approach. Together, our FOCs helped residents of low-income communities across the city achieve the following:
