For generations, Black Americans have faced systematic oppression and exclusion from access to financing and economic opportunities historically afforded to other demographics. The impact of these histories on Black health and wealth continues to be profound. The Federal Reserve’s Survey of Consumer Finances illuminates that the average Black household has about 1/10th the net worth of the average White household one key source of wealth for the average White household was home equity (1). Meanwhile, there has been a 20 to 30 percent gap between Black and White homeownership rates for more than 100 years. Despite Black homeownership increases in the mid-1900s, in more recent decades, Black homeownership rates have been on the decline. The racial homeownership gap rings true for San Diego County as well, where studies place the Black homeownership rate at 31 percent, versus that of White households at 65 percent.(2)

With these sobering facts in mind, a collective including The San Diego Foundation (TSDF), LISC San Diego and the Urban League of San Diego County, have united to launch the San Diego Black Homebuyers Program, which seeks to eradicate the racial wealth gap in San Diego by investing in generational wealth building opportunities through Black homeownership. As illustrated, a home is often the first and most consequential asset that one invests in over their lifetime. It is often the gateway to further wealth building and a stabilizing force, for family, community, health and self. With an initial pledge of $1 million, TSDF will support Black, low-to-medium income individuals and families with up to $40,000 in grant funds to be applied toward a down payment on a first home purchase.

LISC San Diego will be the administrator of funds being granted to eligible homebuyers -- including an additional $250,000 contribution of its own. The Urban League of San Diego County will provide its HUD-certified homeownership counseling services for these homebuyers prior to and post purchase and lead outreach efforts. Lastly, financial institutions are partnering with the coalition as mortgage lenders and grantors. In addition to providing mortgage financing, a participating lender is able to provide at least $9,000 grants for qualifying homebuyers and leverage matching grants through sources such as the Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco’s Workforce Initiative Subsidy for Homeownership (WISH). The WISH program offers eligible low-to-moderate income households 4-to-1 matching grants of up to $22,000 for down payment and/or closing costs. By working together, homebuyers may receive over $70,000 in grant assistance towards the purchase of a home.

The San Diego Black Homebuyers Program is launching via a $1 million grant from TSDF’s Black Community Impact Fund and with administrative funding from the County of San Diego, through the office of the Chair, Nathan Fletcher, along with other charitable contributors.

The proposed guidelines for this program are set forth in the attachment.
